SUBPROCESSOR LIST

Terms used on this page but not defined have the meaning prescribed in the Privacy Policy.

We currently use various third-party Subprocessors to provide various business functions and operate the Suite of Products.

Prior to engaging any third party Subprocessor, we enter into an agreement requiring each Subprocessor to maintain minimum acceptable security practices.

Where we add to or replace a Subprocessor, we will do so by publishing an updated version of this list. Any update to this page will serve as our notification of any such updates. Please check this page regularly to obtain timely updates from us.

The following list is current as at the date of this document.
